How do you react when someone offends you or treats you unfairly?

8 November 1987, Eniskillen Northern Ireland

- 12 killed and 63 injured in IRA bomb blast
- Gordon Wilson a Methodist and his daughter are buried under many feet of concrete and rubble

"In an interview with the BBC, Wilson described with anguish his last conversation with his daughter and his feelings toward her killers:

"She held my hand tightly, and gripped me as hard as she could. She said, 'Daddy, I love you very much.' Those were her exact words to me, and those were the last words I ever heard her say."

To the astonishment of listeners, Wilson went on:

"But I bear no ill will. I bear no grudge. Dirty sort of talk is not going to bring her back to life. She was a great wee lassie. She loved her profession. She was a pet. She's dead. She's in heaven and we shall meet again. I will pray for these men tonight and every night."

If I had a penny for every time I was asked, 'What was your favourite interview?' I would be a rich man.

It's a question almost impossible to answer. I have a different response every time I'm asked.

The most inspiring and caring man I ever met came from Co Fermanagh.

His name was Gordon Wilson.

Gordon was the father of Marie Wilson, one of Irish Senator who's daughter Marie was a victim of the Enniskillen Remembrance Day explosion in 1987

the ages

Paul will later write in his letter to the church in Rome (Romans chapter 12)

Do not take revenge, my dear friends, but leave room for God's wrath, for it is written: 'It is mine to avenge; I will repay,' says the Lord. On the contrary:

'If your enemy is hungry, feed him;
if he is thirsty, give him something to drink.

In doing this, you will heap
burning coals on his head.'

Do not be overcome by evil but overcome evil with good.
